Getting started

The more you know about your plan, the easier it is to make good decisions for your health and wallet. Here are some tips.

Understand your costs

You'll likely see these terms during enrollment and throughout the year. Knowing how these costs work with your plan will help you avoid unexpected charges.

- Premium – how much you pay for your plan
- Deductible – the amount you're responsible to pay for care before your plan helps cover costs, not including your premium
- Copay – a set amount you pay each time you visit the doctor or get a prescription
- Coinsurance – a percent of the bill you pay; your plan covers the rest
- Out-of-pocket maximum – the most you'll pay for covered care each year
- Summary of Benefits and Coverage (SBC) – lists the specific costs for your plan

Guide to choosing your plan level

Now that you’ve found a network you like, it’s time to choose the plan level that works best for you.

Gold plans

You'll have higher premiums, but you'll pay less when you get care. These plans might be a good choice if you think you'll use your health care coverage frequently, like if you have conditions that need ongoing management.

Silver plans

A perfect balance between your monthly premium amount and your out-of-pocket costs. These plans are great if you visit the doctor a few times each year or you're unsure what care you'll need.

Bronze plans

You'll have lower monthly premiums, but you'll need to pay more when you get care before your plan starts to pay. These plans are great if you don't think you'll go to the doctor often, but still want basic coverage.

More plan types

Health Savings Account (HSA)

An HSA is a savings account that allows you to put money aside and withdraw it tax free for certain health care costs, like deductibles and copays. You can contribute to an HSA when you're enrolled in a high-deductible health plan (HDHP), a type of plan where monthly premiums are lower, but you pay more when you need care.

Prescription drug coverage

Knowing what you'll pay for your medicine is important. Use these tools and resources to understand your costs and get support if your medicine isn't working for you.

Check the formulary

A formulary, also called a drug list, tells you what medicines are covered by your health plan and generally how much you'll pay. You'll also learn if there are any requirements before you can start a medicine.

Your formulary is called PreferredRx.

1. Go to healthpartners.com/preferredrx.
2. Search by the name or type of medicine.
3. Use your Summary of Benefits and Coverage (SBC) in your enrollment materials to understand how each type of medicine is covered.

Try generics

Generics are just as safe and effective as brand-name medicines, but cost a lot less. Talk to your doctor or pharmacist about switching to a generic medicine.

Search for the lowest cost

Medicine prices can change from pharmacy to pharmacy. Shop around. See what your costs are at different pharmacies. Members can get started with the prescription shopping tool at healthpartners.com/pharmacy.

Other prescription benefits

- ACA preventive drugs are covered at no cost. Visit healthpartners.com/formulary to view the Commercial ACA preventive drug list
- Pay no more than $25 per month for prescription insulin

Benefits beyond your prescriptions

- Opportunity to meet with a pharmacist through the medication therapy management program

Our programs include activities to reduce the underuse, overuse and misuse of health services. These programs include:

- Inpatient concurrent review and care coordination to support timely care and ensure a safe and timely transition from the hospital
- "Best practice" care guidelines for selected kinds of care
- Outpatient case management to provide care coordination

Appropriate use and coverage of prescription medicines

We provide our members with coverage for high-quality, safe and cost-effective medicines. To help us do this, we use:

- A formulary, which is a preferred list of prescription medicines that has been reviewed and approved for coverage based on quality, safety, effectiveness and value.
- A special program that helps members who use many different medicines avoid unintended medicine interactions.

The preferred medicine list is available on healthpartners.com, along with information on how medicines are reviewed, the criteria used to determine which medicines are added to the list, and more. You may also get this information from Member Services.

HealthPartners negotiates with some providers to pay discounted rates. In those cases, coinsurance (a specific percentage of the charge) is based on that discounted amount. Copayments (flat amounts specified in advance for categories of service, such as office visits or prescriptions) are based on an aggregate of billed charges for that type of service. Our mission is to improve health and well-being in partnership with our members, patients and community.

This plan is subject to changes required by state and federal law, including changes to maintain a certain actuarial value or metal level. This and other factors may affect changes in premium rates.
